VANCOUVER TUG IS WRECKED

Mystery Strikes on a Rock and Foundered.

Victoria, Nov. 17.—The tug Mystery, owned by Captain McKenzie, of Vancouver, struck on Stags rocks early this morning and foundered. She lies in 15 feet of water and will be saved. Her engines kept steam in her boilers in an effort to beach her until the fires were put out by the water.

The sealing schooner C. D. Rand, which stranded at Kyuquot, foundered in 15 fathoms of water while her crew were endeavoring to get her to the beach.

That the canning of sardines, beginning with next season, may be made a thriving industry in this city, is the hope of those associated with the late Hemlow Sardine Company. Those who investigated the practicability of establishing such a business at Astoria during the run of the fish just past report that conditions are in every way favorable for launching out on a big scale. The few samples put up will serve to introduce the article on the market and the packers will interest dealers in their goods this winter. Plenty of time will be taken to get the cannery in shape so that no delay will be experienced when the fish enter the river. It is the intention to make the business permanent.

NOT A SICK DAY SINCE.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble. I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad. of your Electric Blitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved, and soon thereafter was entirely cured, and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver and Kidney troubles and General Debility." This is what B. F. Bass, of Fremont, N. C., writes. Only 50c at Chas. Rogers, druggist.

P. W. Gillette, of Portland, in a second letter to the Oregonian, insists that Fort Astoria was located at what is now the southeast corner of Fourteenth street and Franklin avenue. Mr. Gillette seems to be just a trifle nettled because local residents have seen fit to differ from him as to location of the famous post, and he dismisses as absurd the statement that the fort occupied the property just west of the hospital. As to the statement that the timbers found at the corner of Fourteenth and Franklin were the remains of a house erected by James Welch, Mr. Gillette says that house was standing when he came to Astoria and remained until the '80s. Fifty years ago, he adds, all the old settlers here knew that the fort was located at Fourteenth and Franklin, and he concludes his letter with the remark that local authorities are perhaps better posted in the modern than in the ancient history of the place.

DISASTROUS WRECKS.

Carelessness is responsible for many a railroad wreck and the same cause is making human wrecks of sufferers from Throat and Lung troubles. But since the advent of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, even the worst cases can be cured, and hopeless resignation is no longer necessary. Mrs. Lois Cragg of Dorchester, Mass., is one of the many whose life was saved by Dr. King's New Discovery. This great remedy is guaranteed for all Throat and Lung diseases by Charles Rogers, Druggist. Price 50 c, and $1. Trial bottles free.

The coming engagement of James Neill and his excellent company at Fisher's next Monday evening will introduce him in one of the strongest dramatic melodramas that has ever been presented on the American stage. "A gentleman of France" and Mr. Neill who is always the first to present the novelties from the east on the coast has found in it one of the strongest successes of this year. The story is brim full of absorbing incidents and tells of a young soldier's fight for the woman of his heart, and how in the end, after serving his love and the king he is rewarded justly with position and happiness. De Marsac, the hero of "A Gentleman from France" belongs to the category of swashbucklers as does D'Artagnan. The hero of the former is a nobleman, while that of the latter is of humble birth who fights all his battles alone. Mr. Neill will be seen as De Marsac and the charming Edythe Chapman will appear as the beautiful Mlle. de la Vire, whom he rescues from the Castle of Chize. The play will be handsomely mounted, and will be the finest "thing in a scenic sense that Mr. Neill has ever presented. There is sure to be a large demand for seats for the engagement, which will be one of the interesting theatrical events of the year. Seat sale opens Saturday morning at Griffin's book store.

MARINE.

The steamer Navarr, of the Portland-Coox bay line, came in yesterday. The Reliance also touching at Coox bay, on the run between Portland, Astoria and 'Frisco, was compelled to leave 400 tons of freight in Portland on the last trip down. Business is booming down at Coox bay and both steamers are pushed to their utmost to handle the freight.

By some hook or crook the Vossburg was reported out Monday, when in fact the steamer was at that time bar-bound at Tillamook, and had been for more than two weeks. The report in yesterday morning's paper should have stated that the steamer is bound for Nehalem where she will take on salmon for S. Elmore & Co. notice

PERSONAL MENTION.

W. G. Howell is in the city from Portland. James Corbett is up from Seaside for medical treatment. Frank Patton returned last night from a trip to Portland. Captain Reynolds came down to the city on yesterday's noon train. M. M. Strawn, of Knappton, Wash., was a visitor to Astoria yesterday. J. A. Corder was interviewing the business men of Astoria yesterday. Frank Moody was over from Seaside on business and pleasure the early part of the week. A. N. Smith, president of the Oregon Protective Travelers' Association, is in the city. F. W. Whitwell, representing the James Neil and Ben-Hur companies, was in Astoria yesterday. A. Becker, of the Allen Gilbert piano house, came down from Portland yesterday and went on to Seaside. A. P. Bradbury, the well known Portland commercial traveler, is in the city. Mr. Bradbury has lately been under the weather, but is improving.

Joseph Gribbler, S. D. G. W. for Oregon for the Fraternal Order of Eagles, departed Monday morning, via. Drain, for Marshfield where he will institute a new acie. A great deal of interest is being manifested down there over the order, and it is predicted that great success will attend the efforts of the state deputy.

The breakdown Monday night prevented The Astorian from saying that a very interesting trial of automatic shotgun occurred down near the Kinney cannery Monday afternoon. The guns are all that their makers claim for them, and are indeed a grand improvement over the pump gun, thought to be a very handy weapon by sportsmen.

Sunday afternoon the Eagles indulged in one of their usual good times, quite a number of the birds being present. Herman Wise and the full coterie of officers were also in attendance. After the Aerie was closed all repaired to the Unique where Mr. Hager, who is also a bird, had prepared a very pleasant entertainment which was very much enjoyed.

DOESN'T RESPECT OLD AGE.

Medical Lake Salts Mfg. Co., Spokane, Wash.

Gentlemen—Severe attack of rheumatism overtook me, but instead of consulting a doctor I resorted to Medical Lake water and was soon on my feet again. For barbed wire cuts the Medical Lake salts are the most effective remedy that can be found. I had a valuable horse get into the wire fence and was so badly cut that she was unable to walk. To get her home I was compelled to roll her onto a "stone boat" and haul her home. I wanted to shoot the animal, but my wife prevented me, and we went to work to save mare if possible. A strong solution of Medical Lake water was used to wash out the frightful cuts then the pure Medical Lake pulverized salts were blown into the wounds. The results more than justified our hopes. The deep cuts began healing from the bottom, and in an incredibly short time the animal was, save for a few slight scars, as good as ever. Have also used it in other cases of barbed wire cuts in animals with most satisfactory results. The English language is inadequate to express my admiration of Medical Lake water and salts as positive cures in such cases. JAMES GLABGOW, Medical Lake, Wash. For sale in Astoria by Frank Hart, corner Twelfth and Commercial; the Ogan Drug Company Twelfth and Commercial and Charles Rogers, Odd Fellow's building 6th.
